Dan Koogler joins Koogler Homes in Cape Coral as construction superintendent

Dan Koogler has joined Koogler Homes in Cape Coral as one of the custom homebuilder's construction superintendents, announced company president and his father, Don Koogler. Dan Koogler supervises sub-contractors at multiple job sites, showing them their job requirements and scheduling the work required in order for the home to be completed on time.

A native of Iowa, Dan Koogler moved to Cape Coral in 1996 and graduated from Mariner High School in 2004. While in high school, he worked with his dad in homebuilding, and following graduation worked as an electrician specialist installing low-voltage products for residential and commercial properties. After three years as an infantryman with the 2nd Battalion, 502nd Infantry Regiment "First Strike," 2nd Brigade Combat Team, 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault), Koogler attended and graduated from DeVry University in Colorado Springs, Colo., in April 2014 earning a degree in business management.

"I am proud of Dan's accomplishments and his service, and especially glad he has returned to the fold wiser, more experienced and ready to help his mother and I to continue growing this family business," Don Koogler said.

About Koogler Homes

Don Koogler is a master woodworker who has been building homes in Southwest Florida for 19 years, and is celebrating his 13th year in business under the Koogler Homes brand. In keeping with the company's promise of "Our Signature is on Every Home," Don works hands-on during the building process of every home. He builds a limited number of homes every year in order to keep tight quality control and to continue to participate in every facet of construction to ensure a one-of-a-kind residence.

Koogler Homes' office is located at 434 S.E. 47 Terrace Suite B, Cape Coral, FL 33904.
